AMEXIO becomes UiPath partner

Paris, 3rd March 2020

Amexio, European leader in the field of ECM & CCM, announces the signature of a partnership with UiPath, one of the leaders in RPA (Robotic Process Automation).

Since its creation in 2006, Amexio has experienced exponential growth allowing it to become a major player in the ECM & CCM solutions integration market in France and then in Europe.

Its business is to provide end-to-end support for complex and global projects for the implementation and evolution of its customers' ECM (Enterprise Content Management) and CCM (Customer Communication Management) solutions.

Amexio, drawing on its expertise in process automation projects, is partnering with UiPath to assist its clients on how best to leverage RPA and deploy process optimization initiatives through new service solutions.

UiPath is radically transforming the way companies use digital data and content to create value and new business opportunities.
Its RPA technology platform is one of the most highly rated in the market.

Thanks to this platform, Amexio, with its experience in the digitalization of processes, has been able to perform time-consuming task automations for users such as checking file completeness or automatically entering information into multiple applications. All this in the context of digital processes and improving the user & client experience.

Sharing the same understanding of the business, of the evolution of needs and technologies, it was natural that Amexio turned to UiPath, in a joint approach to research for innovation.
This partnership allows us to respond ever more precisely to the targeted requests of our joint customers.
